Re: Martin Bormann
Information Concerning

A source, whose reliability cannot be evaluated, advised that one Jerry May, residing at 6480 St. Marys Street, Detroit, Michigan, and employed in the Iron Foundry of the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Car Company, generally fits the physical description of Martin Bormann as set forth in the article contained in the March, 1965, issue of "Reader's Digest" magazine.

On April 26, 1965, Mr. C. Lala, Employment Office, Gate Two, Rouge Plant, Ford Motor Car Company, Dearborn, Michigan, advised that their employee, Jerry May, of 6480 St. Marys Street, Detroit, Michigan, was originally employed on March 29, 1950. At the time of his employment, he resided at 6480 St. Marys Street, Detroit, and was known by his original name, Jaroslaw Maksymiw, born April 1, 1912, in Poland. At the time of employment, he was 5' 5" tall, weighed 165 pounds, had brown hair and brown eyes. He claimed to have served five years in the Polish Army. He has been continuously employed by the Ford Motor Car Company since March 29, 1950, except for plant-wide layoffs. No disciplinary action has ever been taken against this employee.

The record revealed that his name was changed to Jerry May, effective September 10, 1963, to correspond with his achieving citizenship at Detroit, Michigan, certificate number 8635976.
